STATISTICAL REPORT ON THE 1985 NORTHWEST TERRITORIES BUSINESS DIRECTORY

INTRODUCTION

The 1985 NWT Business Directory, a joint undertaking of the NWT Bureau of Statistics and the Department of Economic Development & Tourism, was published in late 1985. This directory was the second in a series, the previous directory being published in 1984. Both publications were based on information maintained on computerized data bases developed by the Bureau of Statistics.

Information contained in the 1985 directory was obtained from a survey of NWT businesses, private organizations and governments which was undertaken during late 1984 and early 1985. For the 1985 directory, the coverage of establishments was much improved compared to the 1984 directory. Given this improved coverage, it is possible to issue this statistical report.

The statistics presented in this report are preliminary and experimental in nature, indicating the range of statistics available from the NWT business directory and describing in broad terms patterns observed in the structure of NWT industry and industrial employment. To ensure their correct interpretation, statistics in this report should be used in conjunction with the detail provided in the published directory for 1985 (ISSN 0825-1045).

Information contained in this report should be used with caution. Although coverage of establishments for the 1985 directory is good, establishment and employment counts are low for certain industries. Coverage of establishments and employment information were particularly weak in the case of government services industry. Overall, 12 percent of establishments included in the directory did not report employment information.

DEFINITIONS

1. Establishment

For the NWT business directory, 'business' means government and non-profit organizations as well as private companies. To avoid confusion, this report uses the term establishment rather than business. Governments and other non-business organizations were included in the establishment universe to permit a full description of NWT industrial activity indicating the range of goods and services available from NWT sources. This approach is consistent with the national statistical standard - the 1980 Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) published by Statistics Canada (Catalogue 12-501E).

In this report, companies or organizations with more than one location in the NWT are counted once for each such establishment. For example, all Hudson's Bay retail stores are treated as separate establishments for the purposes of the business directory and this report.

2. Activities

Activities reported by each establishment were classified according to the 1980 SIC, with minor revisions to reflect the particular mix of NWT industrial activity. Up to 6 separate SIC codes were assigned to each establishment based upon its completed survey form. In total, 205 SIC codes were used to classify NWT business activities. In this report, statistics presented on an industry basis show 19 industrial groups rather than the 205 detailed SIC codes.

3. Employment

Employment data refer to mid-year 1984. Statistics on total employment and the employment of NWT residents and non-residents are included in this report. In addition, information is presented for establishments categorized by numbers of employees. In total, 1,544 establishments (88 percent of those included in the directory) reported employment information. In some cases, companies located in more than one community reported duplicate employment information. To the extent possible, such duplication was eliminated for this report.

SURVEY RESULTS

1. Overview

Some 1,748 establishments were included in the 1985 business directory. On average, 2.1 distinct activities were coded for each establishment. Tables in this report showing industrial detail are based on 19 industrial groups rather than the 205 detailed SIC categories used for coding purposes. On average, each establishment was included in 1.5 of these industrial groups. (See Figures 1, 2 and 3.)

Statistical tables in this report show numbers of establishments categorized by industrial grouping. Establishment counts are also presented for industrial groups by number of activities and employment size categories. Statistics on persons employed (total, NWT resident and non-resident) are provided, along with information on numbers of full-time, part-time and seasonal employees. A variety of tabulations are also presented for NWT regions and communities.

2. Types of Business Activity

Retail trade was the industrial activity most often reported by respondents to the survey. Some 317 establishments (18 percent of respondents) reported some form of retailing as their primary activity. When secondary activities are also considered, a total of 439 establishments (25 percent of respondents) were engaged in retail trade. This predominance of retailing activities held for all NWT regions. (See Figure 2 and Tables 1.1.0 and 1.2.0.)

Next in importance based on numbers of establishments were construction and the transportation & storage industry, each with about 10 percent of NWT establishments reporting it as its primary industrial activity - 177 and 167 establishments respectively. When secondary activities are also included, a total of 14 percent of respondents were involved in the construction industry and 15 percent in transportation & storage.

The accommodation, food & beverage services industry was next with 151 establishments (9 percent of respondents) reporting their primary activity in this industrial grouping. When secondary activities are considered, this number increases to 208 establishments (12 percent of respondents).

The services to business and wholesale trade industries each accounted for about 7 percent of establishments (130 and 124 establishments respectively). When all reported activities are considered, 12 percent of respondents reported involvement in the services to business industry, while a total of 16 percent were involved in wholesale trade.

3. Number of Activities

Among the 1,748 establishments included in the NWT business directory, 879 (50 percent) were coded to just one industrial activity (SIC), 353 (20 percent) were engaged in two activities, 249 (14 percent) in three, and 267 (15 percent) in four or more. Looking at industrial groupings, those industries with most establishments coded to just one SIC were government services (99 percent), educational services (96 percent), finance & insurance (86 percent), health & social services (83 percent), communications & other utilities (81 percent) and membership organizations (80 percent). Those industries with large percentages of establishments coded to multiple SICs were construction (77 percent), retail trade (74 percent) and manufacturing (70 percent). (See Figure 3 and Tables 3.1.0 and 4.1.0.)

4. Establishment Employment Size

Of the 1,748 establishments included in the 1985 business directory, 1,544 (88 percent of respondents) reported employment information. Almost all establishments failing to report employment data were in the government services, membership organizations and educational services industries. (Many of these establishments were not directly surveyed.)

In the statistical tables, establishment counts are provided for employment size categories as follows: 1-4 employees; 5-9 employees; 10-24 employees; 25-49 employees; 50-99 employees; and 100 or more employees. Employment figures refer to persons employed in the NWT and include full-time, part-time and seasonal employees. Statistics are also provided showing establishment counts by employment size categories for NWT residents and for non-residents.

The largest number of establishments reporting employment figures was in the 1-4 employees category, with some 733 establishments (47 percent) falling into this group. An additional 398 respondents (26 percent) reported 5-9 employees, for a total of 63 percent of establishments with fewer than 10 employees. Among the remaining establishments reporting employment figures, 296 had 10-24 employees, 62 had 25-49 employees, 32 had 50-99 employees, and 23 respondents had 100 or more employees. (See Figure 4 and Tables 5.1.0 and 5.2.0.)

The predominance of establishments with small numbers of employees is further highlighted by the fact that for 9 of 19 industrial groups presented in the statistical tables, a majority of establishments had fewer than 5 employees: agriculture & forestry; wholesale trade; retail trade; real estate operators & insurance agencies; services to business; educational services; amusement & recreation; personal & household services; and other services.

Industries with significant proportions of medium-sized establishments (10-24 employees) included manufacturing, finance & insurance, and the accomodation, food & beverage services industry. The mining, oil & gas industry had the largest percentage of establishments with 50 or more employees (36 percent). (For the most part, territorial and federal government establishments and associated employment information were not included in the 1985 business directory.)

5. Employment by Industry

For the 1,544 establishments (88 percent of respondents) providing employment information, a total of 18,900 employees were reported for mid-1984. Of these, 10,980 were employed full-time (58 percent), 2,640 part-time (14 percent) and 5,280 on a seasonal basis (28 percent). Industries with a marked predominance of full-time employees were finance & insurance (86 percent), agriculture & forestry (83 percent), and communications & utilities (81 percent). Two industries reported full-time employment figures which were less than half of total employees: construction (38 percent) and services to business (49 percent). (See Figures 5 and 6 and Tables 7.1.0 and 7.2.0.)

Part-time employment was important for the retail trade industry (25 percent of reported employment), real estate operators & insurance agencies (25 percent), personal & household services (28 percent) and amusement & recreation (38 percent). Seasonal employment was particularly marked for mining, oil & gas (34 percent), manufacturing (37 percent), construction (49 percent), transportation & storage (36 percent), and services to business (37 percent).

Looking at employment overall, 23 percent of reported employment was in the mining, oil & gas industry (4,419 employees). Next were transportation & storage and retail trade, each accounting for more than 2,000 employees and 11 percent of reported employment. Also of note were the 1,974 employees reported for the construction industry (10 percent of reported employment) and the 1,760 persons employed in the accomodation, food & beverages industry (9 percent). (These figures exclude approximately 6,200 federal and territorial employees.)

On a regional basis, industries accounting for more than 10 percent of employment were as follows:

- Baffin Region - mining, oil & gas, construction, transportation & storage, retail trade, government services;
- Keewatin Region - mining, oil & gas, retail trade, and government services;
- Kitikmeot Region - mining oil & gas (due to the gold mine at Contwoyto Lake), government services;
- Inuvik Region - mining, oil & gas, construction, transportation & storage;
- Fort Smith Region - mining, oil & gas, transportation & storage, retail trade.

(See Table 9.1.0.)

6. Employment of NWT Residents

Of the 18,900 employees reported by establishments, 15,147 (80 percent) were NWT residents while 3,753 (20 percent) were non-residents. On an industry basis, the proportion of NWT residents was above 90 percent except in mining, oil & gas (53 percent of employees), manufacturing (71 percent), construction (78 percent), transportation & storage (78 percent), and services to business (86 percent). (See Figures 7, 8 and 9 and Tables 9.1.1 and 9.1.2.)

Some 63 percent of NWT-resident employees were employed on a full-time basis, compared to 38 percent of non-resident employees. The comparable statistics for seasonal employment were 20 percent of resident employees and 58 percent of non-resident employees. Overall, residents accounted for 87 percent of full-time employment (9,563 out of 10,980) and 59 percent of seasonal employment (3,105 out of 5,280).

7. Employment by Establishment Size

As noted above, almost 3/4 of establishments reporting employment data had fewer than 10 employees. However, in terms of total employment, those establishments accounted for only 23 percent of reported employees. By contrast, the 2 percent of establishments with more than 100 employees accounted for 32 percent of employment. (See Table 11.1.0.)

Smaller-sized businesses do play a larger role when the employment of NWT residents is considered, however. Establishments with less than 10 employees accounted for 27 percent of the reported employment of NWT residents. (See Figure 10 and Table 11.1.1.)

The importance of smaller-sized establishments for employment also varied among industries, with firms with less than 10 employees accounting for 90 percent of employment in the agriculture & forestry and personal & household services industries, and more than 1/2 of total employment in amusement & recreation (60 percent), other services (57 percent) and wholesale trade (51 percent). At the other end of the scale, establishments with over 100 employees accounted for 90 percent of employment reported in the mining, oil & gas industry. (See Table 11.1.0.)
